On April 28, 2022, a one-day National e-Conference on the "Role of Chemical Sciences in Sustainable Development" (NCRCSSD)- 2022 was organized jointly by the Department of Chemistry, Indira Mahavidyalaya, Kalamb, and the Department of Chemistry, Indira Gandhi Kala Mahavidyalaya, Ralegaon. The conference aimed to explore the vital role of chemical sciences in promoting sustainable development practices.

The conference commenced with a welcome ceremony, setting the tone for the day's proceedings. Keynote guest sessions followed, featuring distinguished speakers who shared their insights on the intersection of chemical sciences and sustainable development.

Technical Session-I began with a plenary talk addressing significant themes and challenges in the field. This was followed by an invited talk, providing attendees with in-depth perspectives on specific topics related to sustainable development and chemical sciences. Technical Session-II comprised another invited talk, offering further insights and expertise on relevant areas of study. Subsequently, participants had the opportunity to present their research through paper presentations, contributing to the exchange of knowledge and ideas among peers.

The virtual conference attracted 98 diverse audience of scholars, researchers, and students interested in the interface between chemical sciences and sustainable development. Attendees actively participated in the various sessions, engaging in discussions, posing questions, and sharing insights derived from their research and experiences. The NCRCSSD- 2022 provided a platform for meaningful dialogue and collaboration among stakeholders in the field of chemical sciences and sustainable development. The exchange of ideas and research findings during the conference is expected to contribute to the advancement of knowledge and the implementation of sustainable practices in various sectors. The organizers extend their gratitude to all the participants, speakers, and volunteers who contributed to the success of the conference. Special thanks are also extended to the sponsors and technical support team for their invaluable assistance in facilitating the virtual event.
